Breen's Liniment removes knots and all enlargements on horses or other stock. No one can pay. Sold by J. T. & F. Day.

Mrs. Lizzie Kash, living near town, on Saturday last sent us six Irish potatoes of the Early Rose variety which weighed 6 lbs 2 ozs. She will please accept our thanks for the same.

Breen's Liniment is pronounced by all who have used it to be the greatest remedy for rheumatism, sprains, cuts, bruises, etc. Sold by J. T. & F. Day.

Little John Murphy, Jr., living on Stillwater, accidentally shot himself through the hand last Sunday while loading a pistol. Our informant states that the wound was not a serious one.

Breen's Liniment is certainly the best combination of remedies for corns, neuralgia, pains in the back and side, etc., etc., ever produced. Sold by J. T. & F. Day.

A chestnut mare colt with a curve in her back and two white feet, strayed from the premises of Ira G. Profit, on Stillwater, last Friday, and he found her after the above was in type, but before the paper was printed, which shows conclusively that advertising pays.

We ask special attention to our new "Matchless Pencils." These pencils, while combining great elasticity and freedom of a bold pen, with the quickness of action of steel pens. The Three Forks Enterprise, published at Beattyville, under the new management has made most decided strides toward improvement. It is better printed, better edited, better managed, and the citizens of Lee and the adjacent country should give it a liberal patronage.

M. C. Kash, teacher of district school No. 39, in this country, gives the following report, after the expiration of four weeks: I have an average attendance of 30 out of an enrollment of 38. After review exercises of Sept. 2nd, he gave the following pupils who excel in their respective studies: Primary class, Jimmie Wilson; second reader, Lizzie Linden; fourth reader, Diana Walter; primary grammar, Shelby Risner; advanced grammar, Harrison Linden; primary geography, Harrison Linden; mental arithmetic, A. J. Walter; Ray's arithmetic, William H. Linden.

On last Thursday night Prof. Carpenter, a traveling showman, gave an exhibition in the court-house at Campton. The house was full, and so were several men in the audience, the result of which was that Prof. Carpenter, in his efforts to keep order (there being no police) became involved in a scuffle with one Collier, and while fighting, was shot in the small of the back. Although the doctors, several of whom volunteered their services, probed for the ball, it had not at last accounts been found. The wounded man is cheerful, and despite the opinion of several to the contrary, is likely to recover. The Colliers both escaped, and have not yet been apprehended. They were seen near this place on Friday morning; but the party who saw them, knowing nothing of the crime they had committed, allowed them to pass on. The wounded man is from St. Louis, Mo.

MORGAN COUNTY.

MAYTOWN, Sept. 4.—Wm. Cox (83), of Etowah, goes as a pious, tall, fast-walking, and very honest old man about town. He would be 81 years old. He came from North Carolina at an early day and settled at this place. He says he never wore a black hat, always preferring white; never wore a pair of pants with lining in them, and never wore but one necktie and that was when he was when he was married. The hair on one side of his head is white, on the other side black. It is said to be the result of an incident that happened to him in days gone by. May his sun set in a clear sky.

Henry T. Spradling, who had been spending a few weeks here for the church, died last Sunday morning quite unexpectedly. It was thought he had consumption. Mr. Spradling was a young man of great promise, but let us remember "man proposes and God disposes."

The building committee of the M. E. Church South has made an estimate of the probable cost of the church when completed, and it amounts to $1,000. This sum will be done amounting to $850. If the committee succeed in getting $300 from the Church Extension Board the church edifice will soon be completed.

May & Swango are cutting an immense amount of poplar lumber, which they expect to ship, in the near future, to Rothwell, Ky. Doubtless the enterprise will pay.

J. H. Bolin has purchased shingle machine and has it in successful operation near Uncle Arch Day's.

Mr. Hale is running his sorgum mill and evaporator near here.

Rev. J. P. Lockhart has purchased a house and lot at Flat Rock.

There are about 40 on the sick list this week.

GRASSY, Sept. 7.—Died. At his residence on Grassy Creek, Wm. K. Murphy. After a protracted illness, he quietly passed away on the 4th inst., at 9 o'clock A. M. He was a large farmer, and much liked by all who knew him. The burial service was conducted by Rev. D. G. Combs of Etowah. He was buried in his father's farm, now owned by Danik Murphy. His wife, a woman of great character, and a widow of 15 years, is still alive.

That we highly appreciate the presence of the friends of Mrs. Kelly and Capt. James Beatty for their valuable services also Grant Thomas for his service, as secretary and Rev. D. L. Hobbs for his scholarly lectures, and his services as chaplain.

That we duly appreciate the able and impartial manner in which James M. Thomas, county superintendent, has provided for the meetings of the vestry.

The re-opening was effected by Capt. J. M. White, which was adopted, as follows:

Whereas, We view with deep solicitude the growing evils of intemperance, from the use of intoxicating liquors, therefore, it is resolved, that we will in all legitimate ways use our influence for the suppression of this monster evil.

That we favor national aid to the common schools, and suggest that our representative in congress do all in his power to procure an appropriation for this purpose.

We the people of the surrounding area, made connection with Winchester with the Mt. Sterling road, then made connection with the coal road. This road extends 20 miles in the mountains. We reached its terminus at 6 p. m. There we were entertained by Mrs. Rothwell during the night, two meals and lodgings, and cents. The next day we made our journey to Hazel Green at 8:30 A. M., a distance of 25 miles, found the road winding through the mountains, the scene picturesque and beautiful, stage driver gallant and attentive to passengers, nice hotel at Frenchburg, where we obtained dinner for 25 cents. There are four postoffices on the road.

Hazel Green is beautifully situated among the mountains. It has three churches, two hotels, four stores and 400 inhabitants. We put up at the Pleasant House, board $2.50 per week.

The proprietor and lady were uniting in their efforts to make their guests comfortable and pleasant; rooms well ventilated and table handsomely supplied. Among the guests were Dr. C. C. Clegg, Dr. Wm. W. Muller, Mrs. Muller, Dr. John D. DeJarnette, Capt. Wm. H. Bell, of Louisville, with Little Bright Little Bell, Willard Dr. Smith from Tennessee, Dr. Smith and Mr. DeJarnette with each other in being polite and attentive to all the ladies. Capt. Bell and others entertained us with vocal music. Little Mamie Adison was the pet of all the girls.

Elder Reynolds' protracted meeting was in progress, and good crowds in attendance. The mountain people are hungry for Biblical knowledge, and will walk far miles to hear the gospel preached.

We met Prof. Hayes and wife, Mrs. Denby, from Lexington. They have been traveling from town to town, lecturing on temperance in literary and musical attainments, but the sons and daughters of the people have been their care.

Judge Swango, like just perches the stars from our hotel. We were most hospitably entertained by him and his family. We made acquaintance with Mr. Muller, Mrs. Muller and Capt. Wm. H. Bell, who were also in the neighborhood.

We were prevented from accepting their invitation to visit them. They are erecting a large two-story brick dwelling, which will be completed. They will have the handsomest room numbered and set apart to all the ministers by the ministers who may visit Hazel Green.

For the benefit of Hazel Green, the Legislature has passed a special act prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors, within three miles of the village.

The properties of Swango water are iron, sulphur, magnesia and copper. We made acquaintance with Mr. Muller, Mrs. Muller and Capt. Wm. H. Bell, who were also in the neighborhood.
